Kevin E. Lawson

(See pp. 193-224 for guidelines and other examples of more complex items) (Note: All of the following are fictional examples. I am frequently wrong, but you never know, I just might be right sometime.)

I. PRINT RESOURCES

A. Journals, Magazines, and Newspapers:
1. Journal article, one author (non-continuous pagination), with DOI

2. Journal article, two authors (continuous pagination), without DOI

3. Journal article, three authors (non-continuous pagination), without DOI
   Lawson, K. E., Issler, K. & Eguizabal, O. (1996). We’re righter than we were, but you’re still wrong. Research Journal in Humility Studies, 14(3), 87-99.

4. Magazine article

5. Newspaper article, no author

6. Newspaper article, with author, divided between two pages

7. Book Review in a journal

B. Books, Book Chapters, Reports, Dissertations, Unpublished Materials:

8. Reference to an entire book

9. Book, 2nd edition, Jr. in name

10. Book, group author as publisher

11. Edited book

12. Edited book, revised edition

13. Article or chapter in a book

14. Several volumes in a multivolume work published over several years

15. Entry in a reference work with no byline
16. Doctoral dissertation, abstracted in DAI (obtained from DAI)

17. Doctoral dissertation abstracted in DAI (obtained from the university)

18. Master’s Thesis, from a commercial database

19. Unpublished manuscript not submitted for publication, with a university cited
Lawson, K. (1998). Why nobody understands me -- but I’m still right. Unpublished manuscript, Christian Education Department, Talbot School of Theology, Biola University, La Mirada, CA.

20. Paper presented at a meeting

II. On-line Resources

A. Periodicals:
1. Journal article, based on a print source, accessed on-line without DOI

2. Journal article, based on a print source, accessed on-line with DOI
Same as I.A.1

3. On-line magazine article

4. On-line newspaper article, with author

B. Books:
5. Electronic version of print book, without DOI

6. Electronic version of print book, with DOI

7. Electronic-only book

8. Electronic version of book chapter in an edited work, with DOI

9. Entry in an online reference work, with author

10. Entry in an online reference work, without author  